

Unpacking & Inventory –Page #1

When you receive your aircraft kit, the first thing that you need to do is take your parts list check off sheet and check off every part that you find in your kit.

If you are having a hard time recognizing an item you can use our website's packing list link to identify each part. Our packing list shows in detail the part number, description, amount required and a photo of every part that should be shipped.

Note: Look over all parts and accessories for any possible damages during shipment. The last thing you want is a set of lift struts dented or bent.

If any of your parts have been damaged during shipment please report it as soon as possible.
